Great Britain's decision to send 10,000 troops to the Sudan has aroused enthusiasm in England and also in Egypt. The success of the campaign seems assured in view of the splendid showing of Egyptian soldiers in their engagements with the Dervishes.

The situation in South Africa appears to be growing more precarious. Hostile Matabeles have surrounded Bulawayo, and the South African republic is making extensive military preparations. British residents are uneasy at the delay of the house government in sending reinforcements to Cape Colony and the government is accused of subservience to President Kruger.

Parliament will not likely transact any more business this session. Prorogation expected on Thursday. Chapleau will not enter the ministry under Bowell, but would under Tupper. It is thought his entry into the government would secure Quebec, and Tupper as premier would be a strong card in the Maritime provinces, which would make up for expected losses in Ontario. It is not known whether Bowell will resign or not.

He leaves a large family in rather poor circumstances. Mrs. Tuttle died last summer. They occupy the farm of T. Mallette immediately south of South Edmonton. The funeral took place to day to the Edmonton cemetery.

A FINE specimen of the American eagle is at present on view in A. H. MacIntyre's establishment. The bird was brought from Athabasca Landing by Mr. Fraser. It was poisoned. The main plumage is black, but the head and tip of the tail are white. This variety is sometimes called the bald headed eagle. It is very rarely seen and being particularly difficult to approach. The specimen measured seven feet one inch from tip to tip of wings.

S. L. SIMON has written to C. M. Woodworth that he will begin to operate the Edmonton creamery about May 1st.

C. BRINDLEY, who built a mining dredge last season working on the suction principle, has substituted steel buckets for the suction and will put on greater steam power.

On Friday evening last the Masonic lodge met for the first time in Houtson's hall. At the conclusion of the lodge business a social entertainment followed, which included songs, instrumental music, recitations, etc., in which Messrs. Rayner, Houtson, Goodwin, Perches, Turnbull, Cavanah and Cann, took part. Several short addresses were also delivered and light refreshments served.

A MEETING of the public library committee was held in H. C. Taylor's office on Saturday evening, when it was decided to collect the books promised and place them on the shelves so that the library may be opened at once. All persons who are willing to make a gift of books are requested to advise Mr. G. E. Grogan at the Herald office, who will send a man to collect them. All who have promised, or intend to become members of the library are also asked to hand to Mr. Grogan a list of books they would like the committee to purchase. This list will be used by the purchasing committee and a selection of such books as are suitable will be made.

THE Toronto World has a very apt cartoon on the question of obstruction of the remedial bill. Canada holds in her right hand a copy of the bill which shows that clauses 1, 2 and 3 passed, clause 4 was amended in three of its sub-sections and the fourth struck out, clause 5 was withdrawn and replaced by an amendment by Mr. Edgar. She says to Sir Charles Tupper, "And you term it obstruction to fully discuss such a bill as that, do you sir? I do not."

In her left hand she holds a switch, the thongs of which represent the seven provinces of Canada.

THE funeral of the late John Murphy took place yesterday afternoon with Masonic honors. The deceased was in the 49th year of his age and held the 32nd degree in Masonry from the De Witt Clinton congregation of Grand Rapids, Michigan, dated 1883. ## "FRANK OLIVER AND HIS CLIQUE."

"There is a clique of people in this district, in connection with the BULLETIN, who have run things just to suit their individual taste, in years gone by. Anyone who did not think or do as they were simply out of it. Opposition to them was one of those sinners unforgivable. There was no opinion but theirs—anyone thinking differently was a born idiot—at least they thought so. But their day is passed and gone, others have cast their lot here, and the News has dared to express some opinions lately contrary to their ideas, laying many important questions before the general public in their true light. With the result that many attempts have been made, by that clique, to put an end to our journalistic existence. But thanks to the timely assistance of our friends, and increased support generally, they have utterly failed, and we shall still remain here to say what we think of men and things. Our columns, too, will always be open to the public to express their ideas on any subject of interest or importance to the country's welfare."

The foregoing is from the South Edmonton News, of April 16th. The greater part of it is not particularly interesting, but the statement that many, or any, attempts have been made by the BULLETIN or its friends either directly or indirectly to interfere in the business arrangements of the News or of its proprietor, is a falsehood which the proprietor should have known was a falsehood when he wrote the statement, or caused it to be written. The proprietor of the News knows of his own knowledge that it is one leading principle with the BULLETIN to mind its own business, and another leading principle to leave other people's business alone. For the information and benefit of the News it may be mentioned that close adherence to these leading principles is the secret of the BULLETIN's success. How false the insinuation of the News is may be judged from the fact that the ink with which it was printed was borrowed from the BULLETIN the previous week, in order that the News might appear; which also accounts for the fact that it was rather better printed than usual.

STALLION SHOW.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Pursuant to announcement a meeting of the electors of Sturgeon settlement took place at the school house, on the 11th inst. J. H. Long in the chair, the undersigned secretary. Mr. Williams, from Southern, Alta., being called on briefly stated that a change is essentially needed for the development of this new and great country in the general policy of our government; and particular interest should be energetically exercised in securing the services of a candidate of alert intellect and practical knowledge, who would be firm in methods and conclusions. Therefore as Mr. Frank Oliver is endowed with these qualifications and endorsed by the most representative men of the metropolis of Alberta, "Calgary," it offers a golden opportunity to all citizens and the farmers of Alberta in particular to secure suitable representation at Ottawa. Messrs. D. McKinlay, J. Harrold and C. Carson followed with well pointed speeches. The following resolution was passed unanimously: "Whereas we highly appreciate the decision of the Calgary liberal convention composed of such highly representative and well known gentlemen in placing Mr. F. Oliver as the standard bearer at the forthcoming election; that we heartily endorse Mr. F. Oliver's candidature, district divided or not, and extend him an invitation to meet us here next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock."

ESTIMATES.

The supplementary estimates for the current fiscal year got into circulation on April 8th, although not yet presented to Parliament. The total amount to be voted is two millions and a half, of which one million is chargeable to the consolidated fund, and the remainder to capital. Included in the latter is one million dollars for arms and ammunition to the militia, the rest of active militia at the schools of instruction, including a school at Halifax and one at Vancouver, B. C. Among the capital charges is $250,000 for equipment of the "Soo" Canal, Halifax gets $300,000 for a new immigration building. The subsidy for the winter service between St. John and Liverpool, $25,000, also appears. The Canadian Pacific Railway gets $99,000 in the shape of increased payment at the rate of $120 per mile per annum for the conveyance of mails between St. John and Vancouver, in place of the rate now paid. Hamilton gets its new bridge over Burlington channel, cost $15,000; $35,000 more is required for mounted police; $31,000 is needed for seed grain for Northwest settlers; $2,500 is wanted to pay Engineer Shanly of Ottawa for services investigating the probable effect of Chicago drainage canal upon the lakes and harbor levels.

SIR JOHN SCHULTZ.

Winnipeg Tribune.

Sir John Schultz possessed many of the qualities which make a man great. He was a man of unbounded courage and determination, of phenomenal resources, of wonderful pertinacity, of great tact; calm in danger; fearless in peril and stern in the face of death. Is it any wonder, therefore, that by sheer force of ability he forged his way to the front and maintained a position sometimes against heavy odds? Had he not for many years been fettered by a sickness that wrecked his body and mind to some extent at least have impaired his mental vigor, it is difficult to conjecture what he would have been able to accomplish. For fifteen years he has lived with the sword of Democles hanging over him; he has literally held death at bay.

In the hour of death, the man who has gone will be thought of and spoken of in a kindly spirit. He had his faults. We all have them. But he loved his country, and spent the greater portion of his years devising plans and initiating the execution for the development of his adopted and much-loved home in the west. Those of less knowledge might deem a temporary setback, such as a crisis through over-speculation, a sufficient cause to prevent any further action on his behalf, but Sir John Schultz, knowing that the country had resources and possibilities of which the outside world did not dream, worked in such times all the harder.

A deputation recently interviewed Supr. Whyte, of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Moosemin, when the latter gentleman was on a trip west. One of the deputation addressed Mr. Whyte with reference to the Moosemin wheat market, stating that the town was sandwiched in between two small places where flat warehouses were used by small buyers who could buy the lower grades of wheat, which the Moosemin elevator buyers did not buy. There was also a large difference in favor of the smaller places in the price paid. He asked for the privilege for the town of erecting a flat warehouse. "What you ask cannot be granted," said Mr. Whyte, "as it is against the rules of our company, but if you can give us proof of lower prices paid here than at any point of the same freight rate we will notify the buyers here that if the matter is not remedied we will throw the market open." Mr. Whyte stated that the company had been forced to apply this remedy at another point.

Battleford Herald: Wild geese, summer hawks, crows and several varieties of small summer birds put in an appearance here on the 1st. Amongst the latter were the little black-heart, which does not usually come till May. Ducks were seen in the previous week, and both they and geese have come in great numbers since. Master Moodle shot a duck on Monday at the mouth of the Battle river, which we believe is the first one killed here this spring.

The Protestant Ministerial association, of Quebec, replying by resolution to a statement in the Montreal Gazette by which the members of the association were characterized as un-Protestant, un-charitable, un-Christian, state their case as follows: "In strongly opposing separate schools, in which the doctrines and ritual of a particular church are taught, we refuse to be stigmatized as un-Protestant, un-charitable, un-Christian. Neither do we accept the position assumed by advocates of remedial legislation, that what the Catholic hierarchy of the Dominion are exacting from the federal government is simply privileges guaranteed the Protestant minority in Quebec. The Protestant dissenting schools of this province are absolutely unsectarian. Will anyone say that the schools of the proposed remedial bill are unsectarian? Should the legislature of this province enact the Manitoba law of 1890, or the offer made the government commissioners by the representatives of the Manitoba government, we would hail with delight such a change in our school law, a change that would bring together during the hours allotted to studies connected with secular education, the children of Protestants and Catholics, and thus break down the un-charitable and un-Christian wall which now separates them, and which so seriously militates against the conditions of good citizenship, and a change that would provide a religious instruction by qualified persons, and of a character agreeable to the parents of the children concerned."
